

Electric Portable, Floor Lamps and Domes

What would be more appropriate and useful a gift to your wife, mother or sister, than one of these beautiful Lamps for the parlor, dining-room, or a small ivory standard Lamp for the boudoir? They will not only be appreciated now, but every glance at one of these handsome lights will bring up memories of the loved one who made such a useful gift.

Floor Lamps

Our Floor Lamps with mahogany standards and embroidered shades are in the most pleasing of color effects. Ask us to light them for you, so that you may see this display. Also a beautiful Willow Lamp to match that willow furniture of yours.

Domes

Our line of Domes, both with direct and indirect lighting systems, is as complete as money and good judgment can make it.

Look our show windows over to-night when you are down-town. They will be all lighted up and that is the proper time to judge a lamp.

The first regular meeting of the Men's club of the Presbyterian church was held in the vestry last night. It proved to be an interesting and instructive evening, for the speaker, James MacKay, gave a paper on what led up to the signing of the Declaration of Independence and the good that has come to us through the stand taken by the sturdy colonists in 1776. Although counter-attractions tended to keep down the customary number of men, the meeting was successful. Light refreshments of coffee and doughnuts were served at the close.

In "A Night in Honolulu" the author, Howard McKent Barre, has tried to clearly set forth the true character of the natives of Hawaii. There have been many works by the early missionaries which only served to be instances of gross libels against the characteristics of the most gentle, hospitable people in the world. The Hawaiians appearing in this play at Barre, Saturday, Dec. 12, matinee and night, have but recently arrived in this country from Honolulu and the dancers are not to be rivaled in this country.—adv.

"Marrying Mary," the musical farce to be presented at the Barre opera house on Thursday and Friday evenings, Dec. 18 and 19, for the benefit of the American Legion, post No. 10, is adapted from the same lively French farce, from which "Baby Mine" was taken. Unlike most musical plays available for production by local talent, it has a well-defined plot. John Gibson told a lie, and for three merry acts, one amusing situation follows another, as the unfortunate fellow tries to extricate himself from the scrapes into which his lie has led him.—adv.

George C. McChrill of Marshfield, who has been visiting in Barre for the past few days, returned yesterday to his home.

A number of Barre men attended the special Elks' meeting held last Tuesday evening in Montpelier, when a large class of candidates were initiated into the order. A banquet was served after the degree work.

Roscoe E. Avery, M. D., who was recently discharged from army service, has opened an office at 9 Keith avenue. Since opening 10 days ago the dye-packing establishment at 12 Pearl street has been a busy place and promises to be even more so if the manager can secure more women and girls to enter his employment. The end of last week there were 37 ladies working but on account of illness the number this week is slightly below this. William Corbett, who comes from the home office at Burlington, is acting as local manager and he states that the beginners are taking hold very good. About 400 gross packages of the famed Diamond dyes are being turned out here daily and it is the desire of the company, the Wells, Richardson Co., Inc., to increase this to quite an extent. A fair wage is paid to start with and as speed is attained piece workers in Burlington are averaging as much as $25 and $30 per week. At least 10 more workers can be used and anyone desiring to apply should do so at once.

The strong gale that predominated throughout this district yesterday hampered considerably the use of commercial electric power, but not until late in the afternoon did any of the granite sheds discontinue operations. In the morning the Montpelier & Barre Light & Power company's repairmen were constantly busy keeping smaller current lines in service but later the lines carrying the industrial power became affected considerably. By constant transfer of the power from one line to another, the company was able to cope with the situation and the industries in the entire Barre granite belt were able to continue operations. The worst trouble came shortly after 3 o'clock, which necessitated a shutdown of 18 minutes since a heavy current line running between Barre and Montpelier was blown down. A few of the stone sheds in the northern part of the city ceased operations for the day and allowed the employees to go home since there was but an hour more to work had the power been available. At 3:30 a small line on Ayers street was blown down, which endangered traffic, but prompt attention by the Tenney company prevented any damage, for only a few minutes elapsed between the break and the repair.
